

SOPHIE DEVONSHIRE

CEO, The Caffeine Partnership

Expert brand and leadership speaker, panel host, interviewer and an experienced facilitator of senior conferences.

Author of Superfast: Lead at Speed published in the US and the UK; a leadership business book on how pace can drive performance.

The book is informed by interviews with over 100 leaders of successful businesses and provides ideas and inspiration for leaders looking to grow their businesses fast (and working out how to lead those fast-growth organisations at the right pace).

Sophie has founded, managed and sold her own internet startup, worked for multinational corporations and consulted extensively with C-Suite leaders in a variety of business organisations.

She has lived in London, Estonia and the Middle East as well as consulted for brands across the globe.

Sophie speaks about and leads sessions discussing brands, leadership, teams and business growth. Keynote topics include:

Disruption Rules: When the only certainty is change, how do we prepare for it? Futureproofing tips

Purpose and Pace: Can we be both responsive and responsible? Moving fast in the right direction

High-Velocity Decision Making: Accelerating the right pace and process with key decisions

Fast Forward Females: Inspiration for women in business in a Superfast World

Hypergrowth: How to accelerate your business fast

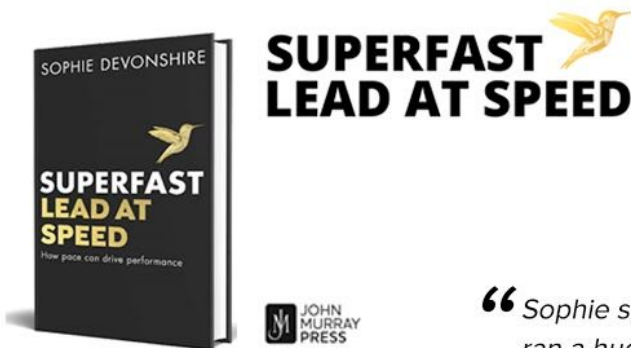

'Lazy' Leadership: How to be faster, smarter and more efficient in a rapidly changing world

Superfast Brands: The role of brands in an accelerating world

Secrets of the Superfast: Lessons from leaders who have set the pace

Customer-Centricity Acceleration: Listening, observation, loops and closeness - how to move faster

Superteams: Building high-performance teams at speed, for speed.

CAFFE!NE
STIMULATING BUSINESS

“Sophie spoke at our Global Leadership Conference and ran a hugely successful interactive session. She brought terrific energy and insight to the current challenge teams face of doing MORE, with LESS and MUCH FASTER. She landed both the theory and practical advice on how we can speed up what we do in teams & as individuals”
Managing Director, L’Oreal

“Sophie delivered her energising and engaging presentation in her unique style and managed to re-energise a very tired audience. A very impressive achievement, which made her one of our top-rated speakers. Top class”
Managing Director, Enova